Thirty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time - November 6, 2011

St. James—St. Leo Catholic Community is under the pastoral care of the Eudist Fathers, or Congregation of Jesus and Mary. We owe our name to Saint John Eudes who founded the Congregation in France in 1643. The Eudists currently operate in 15 countries, most of which are in the developing world. Evangelization, mainly with the poor and the youth, is our primary purpose, as well as formation to ministry in the training of diocesan priests and lay ministers. Our motto is "To Serve Christ and His Church." For more information visit:

EXPECTING THE UNEXPECTED

If it ever crossed your mind that Jesus was somewhat lacking in a sense of humor, today's Gospel should belie any such notion. Jesus' story of the five wise and five foolish bridesmaids is downright hilarious. The circumstances of the story were surely familiar to Jesus' listeners, just as they are — if we think about it — to us. Weddings never, never start on time. There's always a delay. Buttons pop off at the last minute. Flowers wilt. Cars full of wedding guests get caught in traffic. Soloists contract laryngitis. Brides or grooms or priests show up late! So the only reasonable way to approach a wedding is with a sense of humor, to realize that something probably will go awry, and when that happens, to smile about it. Jesus tells this funny story to encourage us to be watchful, yes; to be ready, yes. But he doesn't tell it to make us dour and somber. The heavy-hearted tremble, waver, lose sight of their place and purpose, and fall asleep. The lighthearted know that the unexpected will happen — is bound to happen — so they are awake in their place and ready in their purpose when it comes.

"We ought not to be sanguine about anything; the right rule is to hope nothing, to fear nothing, to expect nothing, to be prepared for everything."

— John Henry Cardinal Newman

“May eternal rest be granted unto him, O Lord.”

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION

In today’s Gospel, Matthew’s recount of the 10 virgins sits amidst numerous parables about the heavenly kingdom. In fact, all three of the readings today are eschatological in nature. In the first reading, the writer personifies a heavenly wisdom, making note that this wisdom, which is clearly beyond this world, is readily available for those who prudently live their lives seeking it. That which is the only wisdom that satisfies “graciously appears” to those who “keep vigil.”

In the second reading, Paul addresses the Thessalonians about those who have died, assuring them that, through His death and resurrection, Christ has won the victory for us. Therefore, those who die in Christ will be raised. So, it is clear that the message of today’s readings is one that transcends this world. They communicate to us about the hereafter. The lesson here is this: if you are not prepared for the heavenly feast, you will be locked out forever! It is a sobering reminder of God’s love and justice. We don’t know when the Lord’s return will take place or when we will be ushered from this earth, so as stewards of God’s manifold gifts, we must use all of the time we have – every minute that passes – wisely.

— Wis. 6:12-16; 1Thes. 4:13-18; Mt. 25:1-13

REFLEXION DOMINICAL

En el Evangelio de hoy, la narración de San Mateo de las 10 vírgenes prudentes y necias reúne de entre numerosas parábolas acerca del reino de los cielos. De hecho, las tres lecturas de hoy son escatológicas en su naturaleza.

En la primera lectura, el escritor personifica una sabiduría celestial, haciendo notar que esta sabiduría, es claramente más allá de este mundo, está fácilmente disponible para los que viven buscando prudentemente sus vidas. El que es la única sabiduría que satisface "aparece amablemente" a los que se "mantienen vigilantes".

En la segunda lectura, san Pablo dirige a los Tesalonicenses acerca de los que han muerto, asegurándoles que, a través de su muerte y resurrección, Cristo ha ganado la victoria para nosotros. Por lo tanto, los que mueren en Cristo serán resucitados.

En la tercera lectura, es claro que el mensaje de hoy, sobrepasa este mundo. Nos comunica acerca de la otra vida. ¡La lección aquí, es ésta: si usted no está preparado para el banquete celestial, le cerrarán la puerta para siempre! Es una advertencia sobria del amor y la justicia de Dios. Nosotros no sabemos cuándo es el regreso del Señor, mas sucederá, o cuándo seremos conducidos de este mundo, así que como administradores de los múltiples talentos y regalos de Dios, nosotros debemos utilizar todo el tiempo que tenemos — cada minuto que pasa — sabiamente.
