The Holy Family of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph - December 26, 2010

St. James—St. Leo Catholic Community is under the pastoral care of the Eudist Fathers, or Congregation of Jesus and Mary. We owe our name to Saint John Eudes who founded the Congregation in France in 1643. The Eudists currently operate in 15 countries, most of which are in the developing world. Evangelization, mainly with the poor and the youth, is our primary purpose, as well as formation to ministry in the training of diocesan priests and lay ministers. Our motto is "To Serve Christ and His Church." For more information visit:

Salvation in Daily Life

This Sunday is the feast of the Holy Family, which comes on the first Sunday after Christmas Day. Today's feast celebrates how the humanity of Jesus (including his entire family life) has brought saving significance into the daily rhythms of our human family life.

The scriptures offer instruction and encouragement on how to share—within our families, parish families, and the wider human family—the love that God shares with us in Jesus. Selections from Sirach, Psalm 128, and Colossians encourage us to reflect divine love and thus find holiness in all our human relationships. The reading from Matthew's Gospel offers a living example of love in the actions Joseph took to protect his young family from danger and to nurture them within the larger family of faith of their time.

Welcome to St. James-St. Leo Catholic Community

We warmly welcome all visitors and hope you will consider making our community your parish home. Church attendance does not make you or your family registered members. Registration forms are in the brochure rack at the entrance of the church, or at the parish office. For more information on parish life, please visit our website: www.stjames-stleo.org.

FEAST OF FAITH - Processions

Why does the liturgy begin with a procession? It is not just a practical matter of getting the ministers of the liturgy from the sacristy to the sanctuary. The procession is a powerful sign of who we are as Christian people. We are not static, staying in one place. We are going somewhere. Our procession leads us to the altar, sign of Christ's presence in our midst. We move, we process, because we recognize our need for what Christ is preparing for us at that table. We go forward eagerly, because we are hungry for that heavenly food.

This procession is an orderly one: servers, deacon, priest presider. Each is set apart by distinctive vesture: albs for the altar servers, dalmatic for the deacon, chasuble for the priest. The procession is an image of the hierarchical structure of the Church. On a deeper level it is an image of unity in diversity. We are all on a journey to the heavenly city, but each of us is clothed with different gifts. We all receive the call to service, but not in the same way. Only by coming together in all our wonderful variety can we achieve the work of the kingdom.

Power Mad

By all accounts King Herod was a nasty piece of work. He became the ruler of the province of Judea under the Roman occupation. He set up a functioning bureaucracy, built a new port at Caesarea, and reconstructed the temple in Jerusalem. However, intent on maintaining his own power, he put allegiance to Rome above everything else and executed, murdered, or banished anyone who got in his way, including his own family. He placed a Roman eagle over the main temple entrance and, not being a Jew himself, he frequently broke the laws of Moses. This enraged Jewish religious leaders, but what burdened the people as a whole was a system of excessive taxation, extorted by tax collectors who added their own "fees" on top of the required amount. Only Matthew's Gospel tells us the story of the Holy Family who, warned of Herod's plot to kill all baby boys in Bethlehem, went to Egypt to escape—a long, hard journey of over two hundred fifty miles.

Without much effort we can pinpoint so-called leaders and heads of state in our world today who behave as disgracefully as Herod, raining down violence on their own people. There are over fourteen million refugees around the globe right now: men, women, and children who have fled their homelands to escape brutal atrocities. The majority of them live in camps or restricted areas in their host countries, where conditions foster disease and survival depends on aid agencies. After Herod died the Holy Family came out of Egypt and settled in Nazareth, where Jesus grew to manhood and learned the skills of a carpenter. Many of today's refugees have no immediate hope of returning home. On this feast, let us be grateful for our families and consider how to help those torn from their homes by war and bloodshed.

The Envelope, Please

It's just a plain envelope wedged among the branches of our Christmas tree. It's been there every Christmas for several years. My husband used to hate Christmas: the birth of our Savior swamped with consumerism, overspending, and frantic searches for gifts on a long list. I wished I could help him feel differently. Inspiration struck as we were watching our older son's karate team in a match-up with a team from a poorer section of town. My husband, who had served as a coach himself, pointed out that the visiting team members were in karate outfits, but obvious hand-me-downs in the wrong sizes. Our team was immaculately turned out and confidently won every round of their matches. I began to wonder what it might do for the morale of these kids if they had proper uniforms to wear. I found a place to buy uniforms and sent them anonymously to their coach. On Christmas Eve I placed an envelope on the tree with a note inside telling my husband that the uniforms were my gift to him. On Christmas morning I got the happiest smile from him that I had seen in ages, and so began a new tradition in our family. One year I sent a group of teens with disabilities on a visit to the local aquarium. Another year I sent boxes of food and household items to a family whose home had burned down. The envelope was always the last Christmas present opened and our growing family always looked forward to seeing what was inside. Sadly, my husband died last year. Imagine my surprise on Christmas morning to find four white envelopes on the tree, each containing my children's gifts in their father's memory. I cried with happiness as my excited grandchildren crowded round, saying, "Open the envelopes, Gran!"

EPIPHANY EVENT IN CALIFORNIA THIS YEAR

Our annual celebration will be held near Coachella, CA on Sunday, January 9 to benefit destitute migrant workers. We hope to help over 100 families! Donations are welcome --take a gift suggestion from the display in the back of the church.

Or, pick up a flyer with a complete list of needed items. Because these people are so poor, we are asking for just the basic necessities:

Give food that keeps, practical clothing, warm blankets, toiletries and other basics.

Leave donations in the back of the church by January 8 am. For more information, contact Laura Wagner at 858-259-1253 or seaturfcircle@cox.net

Come to the sorting party in the parish hall starting at 9 am on Saturday, January 8. If you would like to help with the event in Coachella, there are still a few seats on the bus. Plan for an all-day trip. For details, contact Kate Hodsdon at (858) 682-1118 or katehodsdon@yahoo.com.

SALVACIÓN EN LA VIDA DIARIA

Este domingo es la fiesta de la Sagrada Familia que cae en el primer domingo después del Día de Navidad. La fiesta de hoy celebra cómo la humanidad de Jesús (incluso toda su familia) ha dado significado salvífico a los quehaceres diarios de nuestra propia vida familiar.

Las lecturas ofrecen instrucción y aliento sobre cómo compartir —dentro de nuestras familias, en la familia de la parroquia y en la más amplia familia humana— el amor que Dios comparte con nosotros en Jesús. Selecciones de Eclesiástico, del salmo 128 (127), y colosenses nos alientan a ser reflejo del amor divino y así encontrar la santidad en todas nuestras relaciones humanas. La lectura del Evangelio según Mateo ofrece un ejemplo vivo de amor en las medidas que José tomó para proteger a su joven familia del peligro y para que creciera dentro de la gran familia de fe de su época.
