Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time - February 27, 2011

St. James—St. Leo Catholic Community is under the pastoral care of the Eudist Fathers, or Congregation of Jesus and Mary. We owe our name to Saint John Eudes who founded the Congregation in France in 1643. The Eudists currently operate in 15 countries, most of which are in the developing world. Evangelization, mainly with the poor and the youth, is our primary purpose, as well as formation to ministry in the training of diocesan priests and lay ministers. Our motto is "To Serve Christ and His Church." For more information visit: <http://www.eudistes.org/english.htm>

Today's Readings

First Reading — God will never forget you (Isaiah 49:14-15)

Psalm — Rest in God alone, my soul (Psalm 62).

Second Reading — Make no judgments; the Lord will judge (1 Corinthians 4:1-5).

Gospel — God feeds the bird and clothes the flowers. Do not be anxious; God knows all your needs (Matthew 6:24-34).

Don't be Anxious

People have, it seems, a natural penchant for misplaced emphasis on important things. They can easily get caught up with what they're having for dinner or what they will wear.

Often it is a tragedy that helps people to refocus on what is really important. What I shall wear is an irrelevant question when I am facing surgery or chemotherapy. What's for dinner is immaterial to those living through grief or unemployment.

In today's Gospel, Jesus tells us not to worry. He doesn't say, "Don't eat. Don't cook. Don't buy clothes." He says, "Don't worry." Jesus asks us not to relinquish our responsibilities but to let go of our anxiety. Anxiety betrays a lack of trust and Jesus reminds us that "Your heavenly Father knows" all that you need (Matthew 6:32).

That God loves his people as much as, rather, even more than, a mother loves her child is the message that comes from the prophet Isaiah. Jesus assures us that God will provide what we need, because he cares for us. But we have to decide whether we trust God. We cannot serve both God and money. If we do worry about where we will get our food, drink and clothing for tomorrow, we have a lack of faith in God. And, St. Paul writes in 1 Corinthians, stewards are required to be trustworthy. God has entrusted us with time, talent and treasure. We are called to use them responsibly, aware that he will judge us on what use we have made of them. Tithing, giving a tenth of what we receive for God's service, is a practice that comes from trusting God to provide, and results in a growing awareness of his care for us.

Feast of Faith—Postures of the Mass

In the Mass, we pray not only with our lips, but with our bodies as well. We stand when the ministers enter. In Western culture, standing is a sign of attention, a mark of respect: all stand when the judge enters the courtroom, for example. Standing is also an ancient posture of prayer, mentioned frequently in the Old Testament. When the readings begin, we sit down: a listening posture. Mary sat at Jesus' feet to listen to his teaching; the crowds sat on the hillside or the seashore to hear his words. Kneeling is another posture that is full of meaning. It expresses adoration and worship, but it can also express humility and contrition. We bow: a sign of honor and reverence, acknowledging the presence of God, especially when we receive the Eucharist. And there are other ritual gestures as well—striking the breast, genuflecting, and of course making the sign of the cross. The liturgy invites us to pray with our whole person—with heart and mind, voice and body.

Whose World?

A steward is the trusted manager of a household, farm, or landed estate. He is counted on to act for the owner without however well a his job, he never owner of what he may believe you things, from a business, to really owned take them with die. Imagine, things, not as but what you Would you cling stuff, or think who assist with it?

oversight. Yet steward does becomes the manages. You own a lot of house to a property. If you them, you could you when you then, looking at what you "own" "steward." How might you benefit future generations? Changing to a stewardship habit can alter your thoughts, words, and actions. Start by saying, "I no longer own; rather, I am responsible for what I have." The true owner is the Lord, who knows the motives of your heart. Whose world is this after all?

Become a Child Advocate

Voices for Children advocates for foster youth through a network of trained volunteers who are empowered by the court to become experts about their case children. By developing a one-on-one relationship with their appointed child they are able to understand their concerns and fears, and in many instances they are the only stable and consistent adult presence in the life of a foster child. Much more than just a mentor, volunteers also make recommendations to the court on the best course of action for the child.

Please visit www.speakupnow.org or call 858-598-2235 and become a child advocate today.

Dios proveerá

Ese Dios ama a su pueblo tanto como, más bien, aún más que una madre ama a su hijo es el mensaje que viene del profeta Isaías. Jesús nos asegura que Dios proveerá lo que necesitamos, porque El cuida de nosotros. Pero debemos decidirnos si confiamos en Dios. No podemos servir a Dios y al Dinero. Si nosotros nos preocupamos donde conseguir el alimento, la bebida, el vestido, tenemos una falta de fe en Dios.

San Pablo escribe a los Corintios, los administradores se les pide que sean confiables. Dios nos ha confiado el tiempo, el talento y el tesoro. Somos llamados a usarlos con responsabilidad y conscientes que El nos juzgará sobre el uso que nosotros hemos hecho de ellos. Dar el diezmo de lo que recibimos para el servicio de Dios, es una práctica que viene de confiar en Dios que provee, y tiene como resultado un conocimiento creciente de sus cuidados por nosotros.
